Basta Now, Women, Trans & Non-Binary in Experimental Music

INVENTORY

August 2025

In 2017, I realized that I had already devoted too much time to the productions of men, and realizing this made me dizzy, as if I had been sleepwalking in the very exercise of my curiosity. That's how I set out to identify women making experimental music around the world who I believe deserve more recognition than they have. Over time, my census has expanded to include trans and non-binary.

Every day, I add new names to this ever-expanding file. I lost quite a lot of names along the way because, for a long time, I updated this list on two different computers before deciding to use only one. The damage was already considerable and I had the fleeting temptation to throw everything away; I resisted.

Some of the artists that I list are icons in their discipline, others are so obscure that it is difficult to find a trace of their music, even on the Internet. Some are pioneers today recognized as such by a more or less informed public, others are just beginning to seek their voice and their modus operandi in a very eclectic panorama. Some, to enter this panorama, have left more conventional and more defined areas, with greater commercial potential. Most are still alive and active.

They are composers, musicians, improvisers, performers, sound artists (some call themselves sound creators, others take humility so far as calling themselves sound technicians, while an English tendency favors the very neutral word producer), who work in the very vast field of experimental and avant-garde music: who have innovative approaches to sound or who, at least, question the proven forms through their practice.

My list does not take into account the hundreds of contemporary composers trained in prestigious music schools, academies or conservatoires, whose scores are performed under the baton of a conductor in the most traditional circuits of classical music and in major institutions, with the exception of a few, who develop less orthodox experiences outside of their official curriculum vitae.

I would like this inventory, by its simple existence, to respond to the curators of festivals and other musical events who I can hear say, "We would like to program more women, trans and non-binary but how do we find them?" And this long list is an answer that could be translated as "Open your eyes, they are here, they are everywhere." And now here it is: my list of approximately 3839 finta. In alphabetical order (unless I'm mistaken),
